SDR Ventures Advises At Home Veterinary on Acquisition by AmeriVet, a Portfolio Company of AEA Investors

SDR Ventures is pleased to announce that At Home Veterinary (“At Home Vet” or “the Company”) has been acquired by AmeriVet Veterinary Partners (“AmeriVet”), a portfolio company of AEA Investors (“AEA”). SDR served as the exclusive sell-side advisor to At Home Veterinary throughout the transaction process.

Based in Natick, Massachusetts, At Home Veterinary has served as a community-focused house call veterinary practice since 2005. The Company is dedicated to helping pets across the greater Boston and Metro West area enjoy longer, healthier, and happier lives within the comfort of their owners’ homes. Founded and led by industry veterans Dr. Jeremy Gransky and John Gransky, the Company has always been committed to providing exceptional, full-service care for pets and helping the people who love them make informed decisions regarding their health. This unwavering commitment to premium quality and service has enabled At Home Veterinary to become the largest house call veterinary practice in the greater Boston area.

“We are incredibly thankful for the support that the SDR Team provided throughout the entire process. Undergoing our first M&A process was daunting, but SDR’s commitment to our practice ensured that we were well-informed and well-positioned from start to finish. Their knowledge of the market and the veterinary industry was invaluable as we determined the right strategic partner to ensure our practice and our team would be well supported for years to come,” added Dr. Jeremy Gransky, Owner of At Home Veterinary. “John and I are incredibly pleased with the results of the process and are excited for our next chapter.”

“Finding the right strategic partner for At Home Veterinary was incredibly important not only to the owners but to the greater community that relied on the exceptional level of in-home care that the Company has been providing for over 17 years. Ultimately, AmeriVet emerged as the perfect fit to work alongside and support the At Home Veterinary team as they continue to serve their community. Our team is incredibly grateful for the opportunity to help the owners achieve their transaction goals and ensure the legacy of their brand will thrive during its next chapter,” commented Sasha Rogachevsky, Vice President at SDR Ventures.

“We are excited to welcome At Home Vet to the AmeriVet family,” said Thomas Thill, CEO of AmeriVet Veterinary Partners. “Their model of providing quality veterinary care in the comfort of people’s homes is a great example of how the veterinary industry continues to evolve to better serve the needs of its pets and their people.”
