SDR Ventures Advises Lumos Custom Lighting & Fabrication on Acquisition by a Private Investor

SDR Ventures is pleased to announce that Lumos Custom Lighting & Fabrication (“Lumos” or “Company”) has been acquired by a Private Investor. SDR served as the M&A advisor throughout the transaction process.

Denver, Colorado-based Lumos has been providing its customers with customized lighting design and fabrication solutions for years. The Lumos team is well versed in all areas of lighting design and fabrication, creating products that combine its customers’ design intent with experience in producing robust, quality fixtures. Lumos believes that custom products should be as easy to install and service as a standard lighting fixture and recognize that products need to be energy efficient while reflecting the functional illumination requirements of the space. Lumos’s fabrication capabilities include working in virtually all types of metals and finishes. The Company produces shades and lenses from glass, plastic(s) and fabric.

“The entire Lumos team is incredibly grateful for the guidance and support that Ben and the SDR Team provided through the transaction process,” added Steve Woodward, President of Lumos. “The leadership team at Lumos is confident that the legacy we’ve built will be in safe and capable hands for years to come.”

“The SDR Ventures team was pleased to work alongside Dave, Steve and the rest of the transaction team at Lumos to successfully guide the transaction across the finish line. We look forward to watching Lumos continue to grow and prosper under new leadership,” commented SDR Associate, Ben Luchow.
